

The Review on Antimicrobial Resistance and how the NHS and Pharmaceutical industry are responding to the UK Strategy on AMR

Wednesday 4th May 2016, 16:00 – 18:00, Macmillan Room, Portcullis House,
London SW1

- | | |
|-------------|--|
| 1545 – 1600 | Arrival |
| 1600 - 1605 | Welcome and overview – Baroness Masham of Ilton, All-Party Parliamentary Group on Antibiotics |
| 1605 - 1625 | How does antimicrobial resistance emerge and why is it a crisis? – Professor Laura JV Piddock, Director, Antibiotic Action and Professor of Microbiology, University of Birmingham |
| 1625 – 1645 | Outline of the nature and extent of the problems and its consequences – Professor Mark Baker, Director of the Centre for Clinical Practice, NICE |
| 1645 – 1705 | Sustainable solutions of antimicrobial resistance – working for global action against drug resistance – Dr James Anderson, Chair, Antibiotics Network, ABPI |
| 1705 - 1725 | The Review on Antimicrobial Resistance – working for global action against drug resistance – Lord Jim O’Neill, Chair of the Review on Antimicrobial Resistance |
| 1725 – 1755 | Question and answer session |
| 1755 – 1800 | Thank you and close – Professor Roger Williams CBE, Chairman, Conservative Health |